

OHIO BEEF CATTLE FEEDING SCHOOL

This years Cattle Feeding School will focus on risk management within the cattle feeding enterprise. Each evening we will have a speaker discuss how Livestock Risk Protection (LRP) can be used as a tool to manage risk when feeding cattle.

What is the outlook for feeding beef cattle in this cattle cycle? Garth Ruff, Beef Cattle Field Specialist will cover how the beef supply looks for the coming year and what goals with regards to quality has the industry set for itself on the long term.

To wrap up each of the programs, Allen Gahler, OSU Extension Sandusky Co. and Jason Hartschuh Dairy Management and Precision Livestock Field Specialist will deliver a Beef Quality Assurance Training.

The sessions will be offered in two different locations - Crawford County and Wood County.
